University exhibit features printmaker

An exhibition of works by neo-expressionist printmaker Donald Stuphin is on display at the University of West Florida Art Gallery.

Stuphin, a New Englander, has lived in Florence, Italy since 1956. He studied at the Boston Museum School and the Art Students League in New York.

Art critic William Fuhri said Stuphin's woodcuts pose "the questions that assail man continually. And such is the artist's power that in his work they become statements of his understanding. Love, suffering, human bewilderment are abstracted from their wooden matrix with such consummate skill that we seem present at their very emergence into the light."

The exhibition will be on display through Nov. 15.

The UWF gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday.
